BEEFMASTER PREMIUM E SERIES BARBEQUES

It has come to our attention that after extended periods of time at high heat, the front control panel and knobs of the Beefmaster Premium E Series barbeque may overheat. If this occurs, touching the control panel and knobs should be avoided as there is a risk of minor burns. This only affects barbeques in this series purchased after 14th October 2008.

Customers are urged to review the advice available at www.beefmasterpremium.com.au which provides information on the safe use of your barbeque. If you have any concerns contact Barbeques Galore.
