

CPD for Builders

The following is a summary of the document, Continuing Professional Development Scheme for Tasmanian Building Practitioners – Builder Category.

This summary is for your convenience only – you should consult the original document to obtain the specific details of your CPD requirement.

Summary

As a Builder you are required to obtain 12 CPD points per year. One point is equivalent to one hour of activity.

(Note - If you are accredited in additional categories your requirement may be more than 12 points eg. if you are a builder and a building designer your requirement will be 20 points per year.)

All 12 points may be obtained from the Group 1 activities listed below, and a minimum of nine points must be obtained from this group:

- Structured On-the-job Training
- Industry Based Education
- Seminars/Workshops
- Short courses
- University Education
- Vocational Education
- Information Sessions (Limited to a maximum of 3 points per year)
- Trade Sessions (Limited to a maximum of 3 points per year)
- Conferences (Limited to a maximum of 3 points per year)

Up to 3 points may be obtained from the following Group 2 activities:

- Mentoring
- Lecturing
- Reading Publications (subject/trade/technical)
- Private Study
- Supervising Apprentices
- Service to the Profession
- Training for a Spouse
- Subscription to the Building Codes of Australia (Limited to 1 point per year)
- Membership of an Industry Association (Limited to 1 point per year)

Up to 6 excess Group 1 points (half your annual requirement) may be transferred to the following year.
